August September 2013

President's Message

We are close to our much awaited annual meet at Puducherry. I am sure large number of IAC members will be joining us there. The 43rd annual conference is going to be an excellent platform to learn and listen to the stalwarts in the field of cytology. The conference will have interesting workshops on LBC and male genital tract cytology in addition there will be excellent activities such as slide seminar, guest lecture, oration award, oral papers etc. Above all this is the time we meet old friends and feel happy to see new faces. Waiting to see you all very soon

Secretary's Message

Secretary's Scribble

Dear Friends,

A lot of water has flown under the Bridge since my last scribble to you in May this year.

Firstly your Academy has demonstrated to the International Cytology Community that the Indian Cytologist has arrived and is there to make his presence felt. As the Secretary of the Indian Academy of Cytologists I had the privilege and distinction to present before the Executive Committee of the International Academy of Cytology at the recently held International Cytology Congress at Paris, the bid of our Academy to host the International Congress of Cytology in India in 2019, but unfortunately we lost out to Australia. Anyway the consolation is that Australia were lucky only the third time and hence we are confident that our concerted bid next time will be finally accepted and 2022 will see the Congress in India.

Secretary's Message (continued)

Further we did make an impressionable force at the International Cytology Congress at Paris where nearly more than a score of our Indian Delegates were present. A total of 31 papers were presented and we should be applauded as we were the fourth largest in numbers of papers presentation with Japan leading with 61 and both USA and UK lagging behind us. We should be proud of this display of ours at the International forum. Of course lets not rest on our laurels but make further headway by trying to achieve the maximum of papers at the next International Congress at Japan in 2016.

I take this opportunity to welcome the UP Chapter of the IAC which has just taken wings and joined our fold. We at the IAC are looking forward for more of the community of cytologists in the large states like Maharastra and Tamil Nadu to start regional chapters. The Academy will definitely go all out to help them in this endeavour.

This years CYTOCON is being held at the salubrious beach city of Puducherry with its age old French connections, an earlier conference being held there in 1986. Dr S K Verma and his team is promising a very rich academic feast giving the delegates an opportunity to experience the various cytologic vistas. A record number of oral papers and posters are being presented at the Conference belying the fact that Conferences are losing interest. However we at the helm of cytology in India should attempt to move forward in our academic quench and attempt to change our format at the Conferences by deviating from the conventional didactic lectures to more modern digital presentations, e-posters and virtual and video conferencing modalities.

Dr Dev Prasson has put in a marathon effort to draft a new SOP for the Academy. It has been circulated to all for their valuable comments and suggestions. The same will also be discussed at the GBM.

Agenda for the GBM has already been circulated. All are requested to go through it as well as the previous GBM minutes. Many points will require all of your suggestions as well as deliberations. We always find that a few of us are at the helm of the seminars and symposiums. Don't we have a plethora of talent which has to be tapped. I am sure that the young and fresh blood in our Academy will come forward and take up these issues.

Our International faculty of Dr Mina Desai, Dr Durgesh Rana, Paul Hermansen all from the UK and Dr Sudhesana Bandhopadhya have to be thanked for their time and effort to be with us during the conference. I on behalf of the Academy express our gratitude to them.

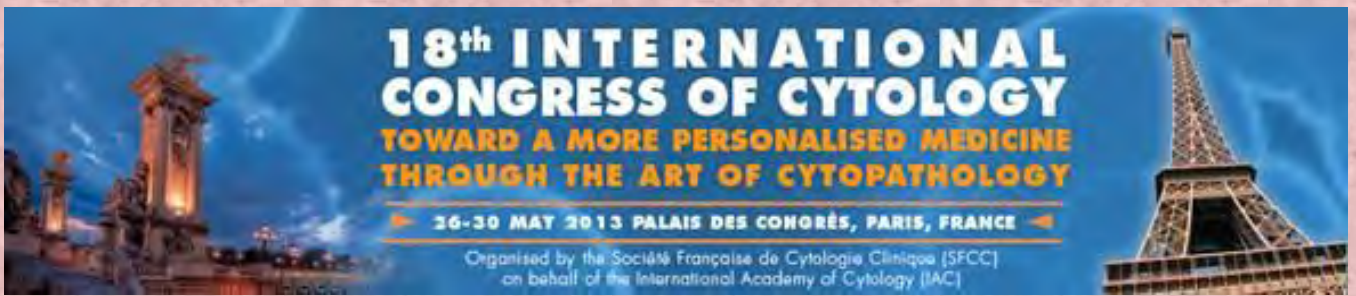

So one and all, hope to meet you at Puducherry.

18th INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF CYTOLOGY

TOWARD A MORE PERSONALISED MEDICINE THROUGH THE ART OF CYTOPATHOLOGY

26-30 MAY 2013 PALAIS DES CONGRÈS, PARIS, FRANCE

Organised by the Société Française de Cytologie Clinique (SFCC) on behalf of the International Academy of Cytology (IAC)

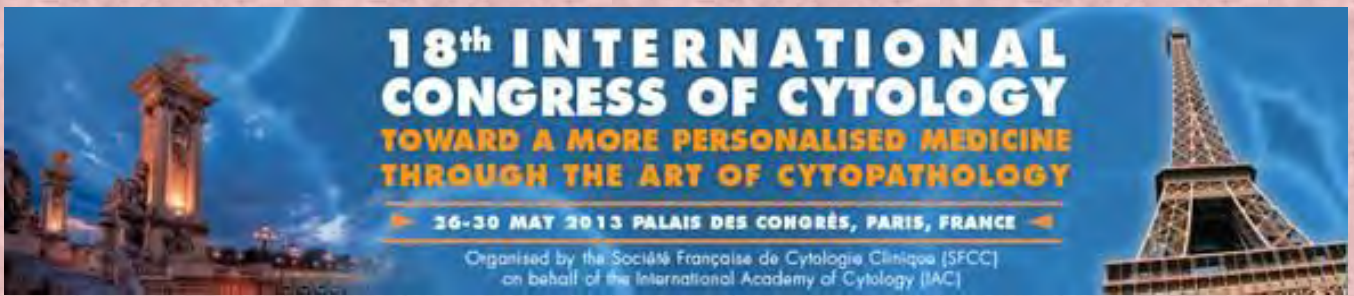

Dr. Dinesh attended the International Cytology Congress in May 2013 at Paris and submitted our bid to host the 2019 ICC. He made a presentation (picture above) and also made a special presentation booklet (cover pictured below), highlighting the cytology scene in India. The good attendance of Indian Cytologists at Paris and the representations were positively received. Unfortunately we lost the bid, but hopefully his efforts will bear fruit when we submit the bid for the next ICC in 2022.

DELHI CHAPTER OF IAC

Annual Report for 2013 by Secretary, Delhi Chapter Indian Academy of Cytologists

The Half yearly meeting of Delhi Chapter of Indian Academy of Cytologists was held on 23rd March at Sir Gangaram Hospital. The meeting was hosted by Prof Kusum Verma and her team comprising of Dr Gagan & Dr Pooja from the Department of Cytopathology. The meeting began with a guest lecture by Prof Vinod K Arora who shared his vast experience in the FNAC of Leprosy. This was followed by six interesting case presentations by different institutes from Delhi. A quiz for post graduates was conducted by the host institute and moderated by Dr Pooja Bakshi. The quiz was won by Sqd Ldr Dr Shruti Sharma from Army Hospital and Dr Aruna Nambiar from AIIMS was the runner up. The meeting evoked an enthusiastic response and was attended by Cytopathologists and post-graduates from all over Delhi NCR region. The next meeting is to be held on 21st September to be hosted by LHMC New Delhi.

The 2nd Annual meeting of Delhi Chapter of Indian Academy of Cytologists was held on 28th September organized by LHMC, New Delhi. The meeting was hosted by Prof. Manjula Jain, Dr. Shilpi Agarwal and their team. The meeting began with three oral award papers. This was followed by a guest lecture by Dr. Radhika Srinivasan, "Cytopathological diagnosis of Non Hodgkin's Lymphoma: Combining Flow Cytometric Immunophenotyping and cell block immunohistochemistry". It was followed by Potpourri of 8 interesting cases presented by various Institutes. The meeting was attended by 250 delegates including many senior pathologists of Delhi. The oral paper prize was awarded to Dr Meetu Agarwal from LHMC. In poster category the first prize for case-series went to Dr Asha B LHMC & Dr Amita Raoot UCMS. The 2nd prize for case series was shared by Dr Rajani Yadav and Dr Gaurav Jain from Hindu Rao hospital. In case report poster section, first prize was awarded to Dr Manish Singh from AIIMS while the joint winners of 2nd prize were, Dr Palak Agarwal RML Hosp and Dr Suniti Pahwa MAMC. The meeting ended with the secretary report, vote of thanks and high tea.

For both meetings we have not kept any registration fees as we do not have a bank account as yet. In Delhi only a registered society can open a bank account. For this purpose we have applied for registration of this chapter. The next two meetings will be in March 2014 at UCMS and September 2014 at AIIMS.

We look forward to continued support from the parent body IAC

Message from the Editor, Newsletter:

Friends and colleagues, the activities of IAC are growing in leaps and bounds. The main event of the year has been the International Cytology Congress at Paris which was so well attended by our cytologists. I hope you will enjoy the pictures from Paris in this newsletter. We may have lost the bid for 2019, but I am sure with continued support of IAC members, we will succeed next time.

I thank the secretary, president and other members who have sent the various inputs. Please continue to send information to be included especially pictures of the various activities. My email address is given below. You can also join the yahoo group for IAC

With best wishes for the Puducherry Cytocon 2013 where we shall meet soon.
