President's Message

The last few months have been exciting and eventful for IAC. Friends, the memories of the 19th International Cytology Congress at Yokohama, Japan are still persistent in our minds. It was heartening to see a mega delegation from India. The enthusiasm of the participants and the academic content of oral papers, posters and talks in the Companion meeting, reflected the quality and commitment of Indian Cytologists. I deeply appreciate the vital contributions of the members of IAC. I sincerely hope that, in near future, we get the opportunity to host the International Cytology Congress in India and we leave no stone unturned in showcasing all our organizational and academic skills!

The regular Cytology State Chapter activities, all over India, in the form of CMEs & Workshops, are enhancing the usefulness of cytopathology, not only as a screening and diagnostic modality, but also emphasizing the potential for new developments in cyto-diagnosis made possible through the merging of various new technologies derived from a variety of fields in medical science. It was a humbling experience, during my teaching visits to different states, to see the desperation and desire of participants, to learn cytology from basics to advances.

The Annual National event of IAC, of course, the biggest forum for sharing the experiences and research achievements of all IAC members, covers all fields of Cytology. The invited International faculty: Dr Roberto Dina, Dr Moosa Khalil, Dr Ashish Chandra, Dr Kusum Kapila and our own national stalwarts will give you all, life time memories in the context of teaching and learning cytology. With the dynamism of Dr Rasika Gadkari and commitment of the entire organizing team, I am confident that CYTOCON-2016 will be an impressive event. I urge upon all faculty, residents and practicing Pathologists to attend this conference with the workshops & CME in large numbers, so that the knowledge gained through these deliberations can be disseminated to every part of the country and bring standardization in cytology concepts & reporting formats.

I am eagerly looking forward to welcoming all the participants in an exceptional capacity of 'Double host'!!

Jai Hind!

Meherbano M Kamal

Secretary's scribble

Dear Friends,

Having participated in the recently concluded International Congress of Cytology at Yokohama, Japan, I have come back happy with the realisation that future of cytology in India is good. Importantly, there is an X-factor to the cytology practiced in India and that is Fine Needle Aspiration Cytology.

In the West and Japan, the focus appears to be more on gynaec cytology. If HPV vaccination succeeds in its mission, there will be a dramatic shift in the workload pertaining to gynaec cytology. Also, Fine Needle Aspiration Cytology practice there is perceived in a different way. There was one gentleman who in his plenary lecture showed his method of practice of FNAC in USA. He showed in a video that he drapes his patients for FNAC in just the same way as you do for a surgery. While there may be legal implications relating to a given procedure, the basic strength of FNAC is its simplicity - the ability to do it with almost no instrumentation, no aid, almost anywhere and in almost any setting. Here in India, we have the ability to do aspirations rather well and interpret the smears satisfactorily on morphology before going in for ancillary tests. This double strength of a strong clinical ability and appropriate use of resources for ancillary tests will go a long way in keeping the science and art of FNAC alive and kicking in India. That brings to my mind, why can we not develop one or more centres for this art where students from world over can come to learn and carry back our style of FNA?

Two new awards are being introduced this year. One is Dr Panna Choudhury Memorial Award for the first author of the best original article published by a resident Indian in the Journal of Cytology in past one year. The other is Col. D. B. Nayar Memorial Award for best oral proffered paper on oncology presented during the annual national conference of Indian Academy of Cytologists by an MBBS doctor, less than 35 years of age, who is doing or has done post-graduation in Pathology in India, in a special session designated for this award.

Dr Kamal and Dr Rasika Gadkari along with their dedicated team have planned all year to offer us a scientific feast at CYTOCON 2016 at Nagpur. We have known international and national experts delivering lectures on varied topics in cytology during the conference. Do make full use of these interactions to enrich oneself and also the Academy.

Till then, my best wishes to all.

Dev Prasoona

Thought's from the editor....

'Diagnosis is not the end but the beginning of practice'

Martin H Fischer

The quote epitomises the importance of pathologists in modern day medicine, and cytopathology has made great strides in providing the 'Vital' definitive diagnosis to a clinician / surgeon by minimally invasive procedures and methodologies. The Indian Academy of Cytology has endeavoured to encourage this unique branch of diagnostic pathology. The recent participation by the Indian cytopathologists at the World congress held at Yokohoma, bears testimony to the vast experience shared by our colleagues at the highest stage. It is heartening to see the spurt in the number of CMEs and workshops on Cytology and the overwhelming participation by pathologists from all parts of the country.

The half-yearly newsletter is a medium which gives a snapshot of the events which have culminated in the last quarter and also gives an opportunity for the members to peep into what is in the offering in the coming months. The increasing list of new members - 'Joining the flock', spilling into 3 pages is encouraging for the academy.

The design of the newsletter has been changed to incorporate a water mark of Papanicolaou stained cervical smear – which thanks to Dr George Papanicolaou remains the most important discovery in cancer screening and a watershed period in terms of heralding the importance of cytopathology to the world.

The editorial team would be happy to accept constructive ideas and inputs to further refine and improve the coming issues of the newsletter.

Regards and best wishes

Brig Reena Bharadwaj VSM

40th European Congress of Cytology Proposed Programme

Hosted by the British Association for Cytopathology it will cover all aspects of cervical and diagnostic cytology in the UK and abroad. The meeting will have a mix of parallel sessions with hands on cytology workshops, and will allow cytologists from the UK, Europe and the rest of the world to share their knowledge and expertise. With a meeting theme of "extending knowledge, expanding roles" it will be of relevance to all those working in cytology, as well as clinicians who rely on a cytology service. It will include an active commercial presence and both poster and oral presentations, as well as a Congress dinner.

Confirmed speakers to include:

Martha Pitman: Pancreas terminology

William Faquin: Salivary gland workshop and HPV testing in H&N cancer

Nirag Jhala: Abdominal organ FNA - non pancreatic

Eva Wojcik: Urine cytology terminology - The Paris system

Ritu Nayar: Terminology and Gynae workshop

Dina Mody: Cervical Cytology Look-a-likes and mimics

Zubair Baloch: Thyroid terminology revisited

Darshana Jhala: EUA FNA Pancreas

Rana Hoda: Gynae and breast cytology workshops

Ed Cibas: FNA appearances on ThinPrep

Walter Prendiville: Colposcopy symposium

SUNDAY 2nd October (15.00-16.30): Companion Meeting of the Indian Academy of Cytologists Symposium on Infectious Diseases

CHAIR: Dr RGW Pinto

Fungal Infections: Dr Arvind Rajwanshi

Infections in Bronchiolalveolar lavage fluid in Cytology with emphasis on role of LBC - Dr Nalini Gupta

Cytomorphologic spectrum of infections in Immunosuppressed patients - Dr Reena Bharadwaj

Cytomorphological Spectrum of Tubercular Lymphadenitis and AFB positivity on FNAC in a Referral Institute in South India - Dr S.K.Verma

Sensory Cutaneous Nerve FNA in Hansen's Disease; a retrospective analysis of our experiences - Dr Dev Prasoon

HPV (Human Papilloma Virus) - Dr Pranay Tanwar

Viral Infections - Dr Pavneet Kaur Seti

Clinical cases - Dr Poonam Elhence

Clinical cases - Dr Ruchita Tyagi

"A discipline between thought and knowledge"

10th September 2016

Organised by

Department of Pathology

Baba Raqhav Das Medical College

Gorakhpur

With warm expectations and great enthusiasm, we welcome you all at Gorakhpur, the city of Gorakhnath temple, Gita Press & Handlooms, also known for its close proximity to Kushinagar and Nepal on the occasion of IV Annual UP Cytocon 2016.

As we all are aware such a conference is a unique platform to sharpen our academic knowledge and share new ideas of skill. We have tried our best to create an excellent academic atmosphere by inviting some of the brilliantly shining stars from the galaxy of cytopathologists of our country. The deliberations during this scientific activity will enrich both budding and bloomed delegates on this occasion.

The organising committee is looking forward to your kind presence and active participation to make this event a grand success

Guest speakers:

Dr Kusum Verma, AIIMS, Delhi

Cytology in the era of personalised medicine

Dr Madhumati Goel, KGMC, Lucknow

Slide seminar on interesting cases of cytology

Dr Asitava Mondal, Kolkata

FNABC of intraoral soft tissue tumors

Dr Vatsala Mishra, MLN Medical College, Allahabad

Cytology of grey zone breast lesions

Dr A K Gupta, SN Medical College, Agra

Role of cytology in differential diagnosis of various lymphadenopathies

Dr Nuzhat Hussain, RML, Lucknow

Non-small cell carcinoma lung: Cytology and beyond

ICC 2016, YOKOHOMA, JAPAN - HIGHLIGHTS

The International Congress of Cytology 2016 was held at Yokohama, Japan from 28th May to 1st June 2016 at the Pacifico Yokohama Convention Centre with a congress theme of “New innovative technologies changing cytology”.

Yokohama is a vibrant port city on eastern side of Japan, about 30 minutes drive from central Tokyo. Yokohama has been Japan’s window to the world and has played a leading role in the country’s modernisation. It is a beautiful city with clean surroundings, fresh air, and lot of greenery with abundance of smiles and happiness exuded by the local people. The convention centre was located right on the edge of Pacific Ocean amidst scenic surroundings.

The conference had a wide array of speakers from all over the world covering all facets of cytopathology with emphasis on newer techniques being applied to cytopathology in present times. The exhibition of products by various industrial houses was avidly viewed by the delegates.

The Indian contingent was 32 members strong and had a good presence. The highlight was the companion meeting of Indian Academy of Cytologists in a post lunch session on 30th May which was chaired by Dr R G W Pinto. A glittering array of our speakers were at display. Presentations were made by Dr Arvind Rajwanshi, Dr Shubhada V Kane, Dr Radhika Srinivasan, Dr M M Kamal, Dr Manjula Jain, Dr Bharat Rekhi, Dr Deepali Jain, Dr Asaranti Kar, Dr Nikita Oza, Dr Monisha Choudhury, Dr Sandeep R Mathur, Dr Ram Nawal Rao, Dr (Col) U S Dinesh and Dr Hansa M Goswami. A group photograph of IAC members present on the occasion was taken and is reproduced below.

NATIONAL HANDS-ON WORKSHOP ON FLUID AND BREAST CYTOLOGY AIMS, B G Nagara, Karnataka 22nd & 23rd July 2016 - HIGHLIGHTS

The programme began with registration of delegates followed by breakfast. The delegates came from various private hospitals and medical colleges across the country. We are happy to say that the delegates had come from eight different states and one international delegate from Oman.

About 80 delegates including consultants, teaching faculty, post-graduates attended and participated in workshop.

Formal inauguration was done under the presence of dignitaries – Dr M G Shivaramu Principal, AIMS, Dr MM Kamal, President- IAC, Dr M A Pangarkar, moderator for day one of workshop, Dr Dharitri Bhat, moderator for Day 2 of the workshop, Dr Manohar TM, Medical superintendent, Dr Vijay Shankar S, Prof and HOD of Department of Pathology, Dr Nalini Krishnan, Scientific committee coordinator and Dr Somashekharaiiah, Observer from Karnataka Medical Council.

The workshop began with invoking the blessing of the almighty. It was followed by Welcome Speech by Dr Vijay Shankar S, Prof and HOD Pathology.

After the inauguration, the workshop on fluid cytology began with introduction by Dr M A Pangarkar. The speakers for the day one were as follows.

Dr DM Bhat: CSF Cytology - Analyzing those few precious drops

Dr M A Pangarkar: The Benevolent & the Malevolent

Dr Anupama Gupta: The artfully modified 'Wine of Shiraz'

Dr MM Kamal: Ancillary techniques in Fluid Cytology

Dr Supreeta Nayak: Slide Seminar – Interesting cases (Cocktail party)

The speakers for day 2 were as follows

Dr Amita K: Issues of the inflamed tissues

Dr Supreeta Nayak: Dilemmas of the benign lesions

Dr DM Bhat: The shades of grey

Dr MA Pangarkar: Aggressive lesions: the overt & the covert

Dr MM Kamal: Suspicious until proven guilty

Dr Anupama Gupta: Is Fine Needle fine or is there more to Core

After the lecture sessions, there was a demonstration of difficult slides with the help of projection microscope in the department of pathology and which was followed by the slide viewing sessions in the practical halls.

The WORKSHOP ended successfully by informal vote of thanks followed by collection of participant feedback forms, post test questions and distribution of certificates. Feedback analysis showed appreciation of the concept of Hands-on workshop on cytology. Hospitality and arrangements were very much appreciated. The request for conduction of many more such workshops were made.

CME on Cytology of Hepato-Pancreatico-Biliary Disorders

Under the aegis of Delhi Chapter of IAC a CME on "Cytology of Hepato-Pancreatico-Biliary Disorders" was organized by the Department of Cytopathology, Sir Ganga Ram Hospital, New Delhi on 19th March 2016. Dr Kusum Verma was the organizing chairperson and Dr Pooja Bakshi was the organizing secretary. The CME saw lectures delivered by eminent faculty and covered the entire spectrum of diseases. It attracted a full capacity crowd which encompassed post graduates and practicing Pathologists from Delhi & NCR region. The next meeting would be the Annual Conference of the Delhi Chapter of IAC to be held at PGIMER, RML Hospital, New Delhi.

UPCOMING EVENTS

14th General Meeting of the Japanese Society of Digital Pathology

Dr R.G. Wiseman Pinto has been invited as a Faculty for 14th General Meeting of the Japanese Society of Digital Pathology in Kobe, Japan from 8-10 September 2016, organised by the Japanese Society of Digital Pathology. He will speak on Digital Pathology in Goa, India

55th Annual Autumn Meeting of the Japanese Society of Clinical Cytology

Dr R.G. Wiseman Pinto has been invited as a Faculty for the 55th Annual Autumn Meeting of the Japanese Society of Clinical Cytology (JSCC) in the session Global Asia Forum in Beppu, Oita, Japan, on 18-19 November 2016. He will speak on the Ultrasound and CT guided FNA Cytology with Histopathological correlation in Goa, India.

4th SAARC Academy of Cytopathology and Histopathology (SACH) Conference

Dr R.G. Wiseman Pinto has been invited as the Faculty and Chairman for the 4th SAARC Academy of Cytopathology and Histopathology (SACH) Conference in Dharan, Nepal from 16-18 November 2016. He has also been elected as the President of the SAARC Academy of Cytopathology and Histopathology (SACH).

DVDs on the Recent Advances in Medicine

Dr RGW Pinto has produced and released DVDs on the Recent Advances in Medicine.

Glass Slide Seminar Workshop

He was also invited as a Faculty and conducted a Glass Slide Seminar Workshop at the DY Patil School of Medicine Deemed University at Nerul, Navi Mumbai

International CME in Pathology, Histopathology and Cytopathology

Will be held at Goa, India from 2, 3 & 4 February 2017. Venue: Institute of Nursing Education, Bambolim, Goa

International Speakers:

Dr Anais Malpica, Professor of Pathology, University of Texas, MD Anderson Cancer Centre Houston Texas USA

Dr Jerzy Kljanienko, Professor and Head of Pathology Dept, Curie Institute Paris, France
